Virtual tours of exhibitions, concerts, shows, videos, online courses, games... The Ministry of Culture and its operators bring to your home cultural resources of exceptional richness free of charge thanks to the site #Culturechezvous.

Public television and radio stations, museums, cultural sites, theaters and operas were mobilized to feed #Culturechezvous (<https://www.culture.gouv.fr/Culturechezvous>) and provide you with a wide range of digital cultural offerings free of charge.

The site is aimed at all audiences: children, adults, teachers.

For children

For the different age groups, the site offers in particular all the fun and educational platforms of the public audiovisual, online games, videos, workshops, virtual visits of museums...

For parents, students

The site offers parents with children from primary school to university educational resources (e.g. online courses, e-books, teaching materials, etc.) that can feed all kinds of educational approaches without leaving home.

For all audiences

The offers are varied: browse the digital collections of a museum or visit an exhibition, watch a ballet or an opera, access the archives of radio and television, listen to lectures, follow podcasts, attend a concert or a show, watch a film or a documentary, play around culture, learn artistic and cultural practices, read digital books, become aware of media education...

Please note : a selection of content is especially aimed at people with disabilities.
